

EXCITE X HOMES

Building Excitement!

February 7, 2006

To Whom it may concern,

Richard Thorgeirson has provided Excite Homes with dedicated and talented service over the last 2 and one half years. He is a competent IT manager with a good grasp of both hardware and software requirements, providing insightful solutions. However, Excite Homes is choosing to downsize, and unfortunately will no longer require Richard's services.

I enthusiastically recommend Richard to anyone that requires a multi talented person that can keep their computer systems running, develop or maintain sophisticated web sites, servers and computer troubleshooting – Richard is your man. He has a good work ethic and is very reliable. We are sorry to see him go.

Please feel free to call if you have any questions.
